DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the subject matter of claim 3 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Furthermore, where is there antecedent basis in the specification for claim 3?

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. How can a port have an axis coaxial with the tube when the tube is connected at both ends? At best, some of the ports are slanted from the tube axis.

Art Unit: 3747

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 6, 7, and 9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wood et al (5743241). There is a nitrous tube 14 with ports 18 and a fuel tube 12 with ports 20. The ports are each directed to a runner (col.3, lines 54-58).

In regard to claims 9 and 11, the ports may be arbitrarily divided into two serial ports.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4-7, 9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Swan (2013737) in view of Chestnut et al (6561172).

Swan show an intake manifold having four symmetrically arranged runners "H" connected to a square central passage "N". There is no nitrous system. Chestnut et al show a square frame 1 having a nitrous tube 8 with ports 43, which directs nitrous oxide to intersect with fuel delivered from tube 9 with ports 44. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the nitrous oxide plate system of Chestnut et al in Swan so as to increase maximum power output. The combination result with each port axis extends toward a single runner.

Art Unit: 3747

In regard to claims 9 and 11, the ports may be arbitrarily divided into two serial ports.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 8 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
